STOKERS

We're nothing much to look at,
We're a rough an' ready crew,
But you have to be a real man,
To be doin' what we do.
While the Captain and the Commander,
Are a picture as they wander to and fro,
We're a lot of dirty beggars—
In the Hell-Hole down below.

But we're laughin' at the devil,
For we know we have him beat,
As we feed the hungry fires;
As we face the blisterin' heat.
Though we do a lot of cussin',
And we can't deny the same,
All the turbines sing our praises,
As the gobs who play the game—
In the Hell-Hole down below.

We're blackened and we're blistered,
We're forever being wild,
And we're quick to start a racket,
When somebody gets us riled.
But in spite of our short comin's,
And our tendencies to slip,
We're the guys who keep things goin'—
In the Hell-Hole of the ship.

July 4th Smoker

Sailor Lyon, heavyweight, now under instruction at the Radio School, is in training to meet Soldier Turner, of Corregidor, weight 168 pounds, in the Main Preliminary of the Smoker to be held by the District on 4th of July. This is the second appearance the Sailor has made the ring while serving on the Asiatic Station and his first since 1925, when he won a decision over Watts in the ring aboard the U. S. S. Black Hawk. In 1924, he met and won, by decision, from Jeske, at Bremerton, Washington, and lost a decision to Lancaster, at San Pedro. Lyon is getting in top-notch shape and the boys from the District are confident that he will be a safe winner in his first appearance in Cavite.

Attempts will be made to hold the Smoker at the usual location in the Athletic Field. If it rains, the ring will be moved under cover and the fights continued as planned.

The Main Event of the evening, will be as previously planned, between Lombard of the Marines and Logsden, Army Interservice Champ. These lads have continued training for the past several weeks and promise the hardest battle of the evening.

Leake, of the Army, after deciding not to fight again while in the Orient, accepted a challenge to be matched with Hanley, of the Marine Corps, in the Semi-Final. Hanley is getting in the pink of conditon and Leake has proven that he is always ready to defend his honors.

Wells, of the Marines, will meet Sailor Musson, from the U. S. S. Hulbert. Wells is prepared, and the Navy boy is working hard and will be ready to put and take one for one with the Marine in the Special Event.

Jeffers, of the Prison Detachment of Marines, may be seen doing his stuff daily and will show the fans a different angle of fighting in the Second Preliminary, when he meets Cramer, weight 153 pounds, from Corregidor.

Bulldog Morgan, of the Marines, will meet Flash McGill, from Fort Mills, Corregidor, in the Second Preliminary. Morgan is going after McGill to make it a tie and as we understand it, he will have the score one to one by the time this number is finished.

Yongson, of Cavite, will meet Bautista, of Fort McKinley, in the Curtain Raiser. Both boys weigh 107 pounds each and will go like lightning.

Freddie Welk will referee. The judges and timekeeper will be the same as the last Smoker.

Any men in and about the District who have had experience in the ring, or who wish to make a try, can be matched in the District Smokers by turning their names into the Match-Making Committee or to the Editor of BREEZES.

Talkative guest: "Ah, so you're the new warden of the prison!"

Dignified warden: "Yes, madam."

Talkative guest: "I suppose you began as a convict and worked up."

Hospital to Entertain District

The personnel of the U. S. Naval Hospital at Canacao are to be hosts to the officers, enlisted men, and their friends at a big "Ship's Ball" some time next month in Manila.

The date will probably be 21, July, but the place is not yet certain. The Commanding Officer has formed a committee composed of Day, Robillard, Goar, Condon and Bour, and instructed them to go ahead on their plans. It is understood that they are looking over the most propitious places in Manila to stage the affair, such as the Elk's Club, and have gotten out scouts to listen in on the Manila Hotel, Goulette's, and several private orchestras. Undoubtedly the Commandant's orchestra, which has turned into a real number one dance orchestra, under our new band-master from the "Pittsburgh," will be asked to play for a part or all of the evening, and a second relief orchestra may also be pressed into service. Be that as it may, all hands may expect an affair of the first magnitude on one of Manila's most famous dance floors, and one or more of the best dance orchestras in the Islands playing for us.

The Hospital is certainly making character. The way in which they are putting through their plans is worthy of a big superdreadnought It will be like a big Ship's Ball—the best ball room in Manila, the best orchestra available, the best of Manila's fair ones, refreshments and punch like you'd get in the States, and everybody there from the Acting Commandant to the buckest buck private or the rookiest seaman.

Congratulations to the Hospital! This is the best news we have published for months You are surely leading off with good spirit and every man jack in the District is behind you to make this the most successful Naval affair of the year.

Radio School MSGS

The old saying is that you can't teach an old dog new tricks but if you could see our mascot "Peary" when Alabama Mac is feeding him, you would scratch out "can't" and insert "can do" instead. Alabama has taught Peary to speak, lay down, roll over and sit up for his chow—and enjoy doing it. Alabama is the only boss Peary recognizes at present.

Casey Jones and his assistant have nearly completed the loud speaker. Looks as if the school will soon be listening to KZRM without the necessity of using head phones.

After many declarations, etc., that he would never go ashore here, Readette was glimpsed trying to ease into a certain emporium without being seen. First time in two months for the "Frog".

For this week's "last words" we are indebted to Crabbe better known as the "Georgia Peach." Polston, alias "Dry Humor Will Rogers" and the "Peach," were heatedly disagreeing over the location of some of the Yangtze River towns. After five minutes of fruitless dragging of said towns up and down the river, Crabbe exclaimed, in low and deliberate but tense and earnest tones, "Say mister, I know my Geography." The settled it. The towns stayed put, and the show was over.

SAILOR LYON TO MEET SOLDIER TURNER JULY FOURTH

Bulmer Takes First Game from Radio School Nine

In a well matched game the "triple duce" aggregation defeated the Radio School nine to the tune of 2-1, last Wednesday afternoon. Battle pitched for the Bulmer, and Hutcheon, "the Radio School's old stand-by," held the mound for the apprentice key pushers. Both teams played an excellent brand of baseball, making few errors and less complaints.

The Bulmer nine collected their two runs in the third inning when "Trusty" Blizzard went to the plate and smashed out a clean hit for a single, stealing second and going to third when Wilder slugged a pop-fly to the outfield for an error by Sundermier. In a squeeze, Battle sacrificed, scoring Blizzard and advancing Wilder to third. Nulliner singled, scoring Wilder. In the seventh inning, Feinberg of the Radio School, clouted a single, stole second and advanced to third on a put out to first. Kelly, the Bulmer catcher, pulled a boner by overthrowing the ball on a return to the pitcher and Feinberg scored.

Hits: Radio School, 4; Bulmer, 5. First on Balls: Off Battle, 4; Off Hutcheon, 2. First on errors: Bulmer, 1; Radio School, 1. Stolen Bases: Blizzard, 2; Hutcheon, 1; Feinberg, 1. Struck out: By Hutcheon, 6; By Battle, 7. Note. Patrick relieved Villalúz (Radio School catcher) in the second inning.

A Commentor's Comments

The Sports Editor received and was requested to publish the following comment:

"It has been noted from recent issues of BAMBOO BREEZES that the forming of four strong baseball teams into a regular league within the District has been suggested, with considerable favor from all. There are many baseball "hounds" in the District who are very anxious to get this put across and without a doubt the fans are just as willing to see it put over, since there have been no ball games for over two weeks and probably will not be for quite a while.

The main reason for no ball games has been the poor condition of the ball grounds. True, it has been raining almost daily, but if the grounds had a graveled or hard surfaced infield; the water would either be absorbed or washed off, making it possible for a game to be played within the next day or so after it had stopped raining; instead of rain settling on the infield and forming into big pools of water around the bases and home plate, making it impossible to play ball for a week after the last rain, as at present. The baseball men's extreme desire to play ball was demonstrated last Sunday morning; when about 10 men obtained some brooms and a shovel and worked for two hours, draining the water off the infield. They worked harder than they ever did just to get the diamond in shape to play ball on. After matting grass around the bases and home plate they were able to stage a game in the afternoon, not only to their own delight, but to the delight of approximately 50 fans. There would have been many more spectators if it hadn't been for the fact that they thought it impossible to play on the grounds.

If it is the intention of the District to form four teams for the purpose of getting up a league, why not begin at the bottom and get a suitable infield on which these said teams will be able to perform? An infield built up higher than the outfield so that the water could drain off, of hard gravel instead of the present soft clayed diamond, would be essential prior to any real games and league competition."

Ball Players Fail as Managers

"I am convinced that no ballplayer, however great he may be as a player, or however great may be his possibilities as a manager, can manage a major league ball club and play his position at the same time."

It's Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, talking. He offers, as first-hand examples, Rogers Hornsby and Bob O'Farrell, the two men who preceded Bill McKechnie, this year's pilot, as manager of the St. Louis entry in the National league race.

"Rogers Hornsby," says Breadon, "was recognized as the greatest batter in the National league, and one of the greatest the game has produced when I made him manager of the Cardinals.

"He had a lifetime batting average close to 400.

"He is of the positive, self-willed type that should be able to throw off the mental strain that goes with directing the destines of a big league club. Yet he wound up his only season as manager of the team with a batting average of 317. He was 'way off his usual form.'

"Bob O'Farrell succeeded him—one of the greatest catchers in the game, and one of the main cogs in our championship ball. O'Farrell's work as a catcher suffered mainly because of the strain of directing the play of the team.

"Selecting and developing the players, and molding them into a team and directing the play of that team on the field, is one man's task in itself. Playing any position on a major league ball club demands a man's best, mentally and physically.

"A manager cannot make the most of his opportunities if he has to concentrate his efforts at least part of the time on his own playing. A player cannot keep his mind on the play before him—or what the pitcher is tossing up to him if he has to worry about the make-up of his ball club in general, the strategy to be employed the following inning, or the exigencies of the moment brought on by his own pitcher's ineffectiveness or his team's inability to solve the opposing pitcher's delivery.

"You're asking one man to do two men's work at once.

"It just can't be done."

To back up his opinion further, Breadon offers the experiences of George Sisler, Ty Cobb, Dave Bancroft and others who stepped into the managerial ranks before their playing days were ended, and not only failed to set brilliant records as managers, but found their playing suffering as a result of the "doubling in brass."—*U. THE COMING OF "THE FOURTH"

At the last Fourth of July celebration I witnessed at home an eloquent Naval speaker held his audience spellbound by telling them about the men of the Asiatic Fleet. He spoke of how we left our homes for a period of years to serve our Country in foreign Stations. He dwelt on the loneliness of Yangtze river ports, and mentioned the monotony of Guam and Samoa. In conclusion he said: "We Americans in the States forget what a responsibility it is to be an American, but our men 10,000 miles away from home know that responsibility as they carry the Flag to the uttermost parts of the earth. And may we Americans living at ease in the United States accord those men all honor and respect for the high service they are rendering." As he sat down there was long and sustained applause.

He was speaking of us, telling that audience that we knew what a responsibility it was to be an American, impressing on them that America should give us honor and respect for our service of our Country in the uttermost parts of the earth

As we think of the faith that every intelligent American has in us let us look at ourselves and judge as to how we are fulfilling that trust. Are we 100% American or are we learning to love some other land better that our own U. S. A ? Are we as keen to see America again as we were a year ago? Do we still remember "the girl we left behind?" And are we still looking forward with as much impatience to the time when we can marry her and raise an American family?

As we approach the Fourth of July, may we be conscious that we are representatives of America, and swear that we will do everything in our power to keep our lives and the lives of our shipmates 100% American, looking forward steadfastly to the time when we may go back to our native land once more.

South Africa has only 85,000 telephones.

About 100 hansom cabs are still plying in London.

Ice-making machines are just being introduced into Chile.

While living costs are climbing in Italy, wages continue to fall.

The Commissary Store, U. S. Naval Station, Cavite, will be closed on July 2, 3 and 4, 1928, for the purpose of inventory.

Light Cruisers Under Construction

Recent information circulated tells of the progress which is being made in the construction of the eight light cruisers the Navy is having built at the present time.

Only two of them have been named so far, the Pensacola and the Salt Lake City. The Pensacola is expected to be completed in July next year and the Salt Lake City will be completed in a little less than a year later Three others of the unnamed cruisers are to be finished in June, 1930, and the other three are to be finished in March, 1931.

Norway produced 518,000 barrels of whale oil during the season, 1928, as against 286,000 last year. Most of it came from South Shetland and the Rose sea.

Mandy: "Why so, Hiram?"

Squire Green: "Well, the deacon trimmed me on a hoss trade once.—Exchange.

Club Suggestions

More suggestions are reaching the Editor's desk for making a better Club. These suggestions will be of the greatest assistance to the men in charge of renovating the Club, and even though each suggestion thought of may seem small, it is helping the committee to decide whether what they are doing is going to satisfy Pat and John.

Arrangements for materials, etc., are already underway and it is expected that work will begin on renovating within the next couple weeks.

The Editor would like to receive more suggestions and each suggestion received will be taken into consideration.

The following is one of the suggestions received:

"Since suggestions are in order for the betterment of the Service Club; I believe that one thing is essential at the present and that is the repairing of the phonograph at present in the pool room. Many men have gone up there with the intention of spending a few idle moments in listening to the records only to be disappointed. There are quite a number of late pieces there now, having been bought by a couple of volunteers who were desirous for something real peppy. These same men had intended purchasing more late records right along but have postponed doing so until such date as the phonograph may be able to bring out all that a good one can. I have spoken with any number of the men in the District and believe that quite a few of them would be willing to purchase records voluntarily if the phonograph was in shape.

If we are going to better the Club, I for one, propose the above as the first step towards making men's recreational complete."

Billy: "Say, Tommy, how did you get such a black eye?"
Tommy: "Because I did not choose to run."

"So she winked at you? And—er—what followed?"
"What followed! Why I did of course."—Exchange.

Yeoman (to dopey gob in Coke Alley): "Snap out of it! Your enlistment has expired."

Gob: "No wonder, these blowers are not running half the time."

With the Devil Dogs

There nothing outstanding around the Marine Barracks here of late. Instead of being outstanding though, it is detrimentally absorbing.

All hands have come to the river and the water is deep, so we will be in a dilemma until the next issue of the NORTH WESTERN BREEZES.

Things are improving considerably. One of our wonderful characteristics is that our minds will grasp things in the long run and not thoughts. One of our non-coms read the "Book Nobody Knows" through seven times in two days. After he had finished, the book got misplaced and of course he began looking for it. Some of the men wanted to help, so they asked him the name of the book. Well, he had forgotten but the best he could think of was that it was a Biography of How to Stay Sober.

We are all glad to welcome Lewis and Caldwell back to the Barracks for the more the merrier. They have just come from a short visit to the Hospital.

One boy Sergeant is getting so stout he will have to get some new clothes if he don't begin reducing.

My bunkie claims to be a descendant of Abraham but I still insist on him being a nephew of Spinoza.

War was declared in the Special Duty Quarters between the Yanks and Rebels. Rebels taking lead in the battle of Bull Run. How the Yanks did run when Scottie got there. The boys can say all they want to but when a rebel is trained up to throw rocks at a negro's heels and he gets good at it there is no use to try and beat him for as sure as you are living he will beat you to it every time. Especially Scottie.

Some of our men got anxious to see the Turnkey so they visited 48 over the week end.

Tommy was out taking on some road work the other morning and he accused the road of kicking him in the face twice. "Hugh," thats a funny way for a man to feel when he is working out.

We don't hear any more from our son Spiker for he is in love and takes all of his time planning for the future abode. You can always tell when a man is in love if you will go around to wake him up at three in the morning. Spiker has that cinched. "Just try him once?"

It seems we are not going to have the privilege of seeing Alexandria in the ring before he sails. He is sailing for the States in July on the Chaumont. Alexandria has beat everything his weight while being in the Orient. Best wishes to him for a success when he gets to the States.

All of the men have reserved a little warm spot in their hearts for the Mess Sergeant. As we all know the only straight way to a man's heart is by way of his stomach.

How can we get rid of the musics? If we could only sleep until ten o'cock each morning this would be a paradise.

Many men think they are heavy eaters because they eat their wives' bread.

When some people tell the truth it is only the purpose of creating trouble.

Feed a dog something that makes him sick and it will never touch it the second time. How different man and dog is.

Some Sense and Nonsense

Stick.

Though difficult may be the task,
Hold out until you've won;
What more of life can mortal ask

Honorable consideration for the rights of others is the best expression of good will.

Is it impossible for a woman to hide her age without first hiding her face?

Dollars are but part of the satisfying rewards for education.

Why do people insist on eating when it spoils their appetites?

In most cases opportunity needs a door to knock on

After ten years of hard luck one usually gets used to it.

Don't whine about your lack of opportunity There are opportunities for every one who is able to convince the world by his ambitions that he is worthy of success.

Never marry if you wish to keep that famous promise, "love each other forever."

Although the winter season is in full swing at our "hotel," the influx of "guests" is rather slow. Not that we have any room for complaint, but we do like to see a hustling activity that only an ultra-modern "hotel" like ours is capable of producing. Of course we always have with us quite a number of "regulars" who are so pleased with our "system" that they remain with us for quite a spell, but the most picturesque type of "guests," the "traveling salesmen," only stay with us a very short while. It all depends upon how much their respective "lines" are in demand.

Our hotel "detective" finally got a case to work on. It was at a most opportune time also for that number twelve-shoe-wearing gentleman had just about smoked up all of our "hotel" manager's stogies, and had gotten eye trouble from looking for possible suspects. It seems that one of our "bellhops" had received an anonymous telephone call from a lady who was either American or at least two thirds "Mesteeser" for she did not refer to our "Romeo-bellhop" as a she. Now, our lady called for a Corporal whose moniker starts with C, and ends with R Upon replying that we did not harbor any Corporals by that name, but we did harbor a "half-Corporal" whose name starts and ends with the above-mentioned letters, the sweet young thing? on the other end of the wire said that it must be "he," for he only wears one of those funny little stripes on his sleeves. Here we must give our "hotel detective" credit for having at least a little human intelligence for the quick and efficient way in which he solved the "telephone" mystery. There's nothing to it, said our "Hawkshaw," taking an extra large bite of chewin', and scoring a pin-wheel in the nearest cuspidor. It is just a case of the "worst" half of a Corporal getting a call from his "better" half.

The "Iron" Duke claims that we are all wrong about his views on life. "I don't hold myself aloft of the common people, and as a matter of fact I do try to be democratic, but there is a limit to everything. It is one of life's fantastic notions that has placed me in the position that I am in now But no matter what class of people I'm compelled to associate with I will never, and under no circumstances allow my thoughts to drift along the same channel as that of the common lot "

"Sagebrush" Fletcher claims that he has enough money saved up to be able to purchase a third hand flivver. No more mules for me, says "Sagebrush." You may coax an old flivver to back up or go ahead, but just try to make one o' them long-eared animals listen to reason, it can't be done.

Our pride and hope, Jimmie Lombard, is training diligently for his coming fistic dispute with a gentleman of the same school. "Jimmie" is taking long hikes every evening, and short and snappy ones during the day. We suggest that he take along a compass while taking the long hikes lest he lose his bearing.

Another Suggestion

Dear Editor:

Here is a suggestion to start the ball rolling. How about a swimming pool for the Club?

I am sure all of us would like to see one on the map of Cavite. The swimming beach at Canacao is all well and good for the people in Canacao and the Officers receiving boat transportation, but to some of us "mortals" who have to slave daily for our "twenty-eighty per," and have to pay calesa fare to and fro, it is not going over so big. A man walks to Sangley Point and has a swim, but by the time he walks back to Cavite, a distance of about 3 miles, he is no better off for his swim than before, due to the balmy climate.

All good size stations have swimming pools, even Los Banos, a little station, boasts of one, so why not have one here at Cavite?

With free sand and gravel, and donated labor, a good size swimming pool, say approximately 50 by 150 or 200 feet, with a depth sloping from 3 to 15 feet, built of re-enforced concrete, should not come over $600 00. The pool could be built in any suitable location along the waterfront. Saltwater for the pool, and fresh water for the showers, could be supplied by the main-line. A hose connected to a fire hydrant would take care of the flushing and cleaning of the pool with the natural drainage in the ocean.

Such a swimming pool would not only be a great acquisition to this Station but would mean real comfort, greatly appreciated by all of us.

Mable: "He'll have to be."

Dentist: "Pardon me, I must have a drill."
Gob: "Can't I even have a tooth filled without a rehearsal?"

Linens which are to be stored for any length of time should be rolled loosely in blue paper which is procurable at any stationery store.

The Navy Recreation Hall

The Navy Recreation Hall is located at the Main Gate. It is a club for all enlisted men. Men attached to ships in the Yard are welcomed on the same basis as men attached to the District.

The club contains four bowling alleys, three pool tables, a restaurant, a good laundry a well stocked canteen, and one of the best soda fountains in the neighberhood of Manila.

The Library has 2,850 volumes containing the latest fiction. Eight of the most prominent newspapers of the United States and the Philippines are available.
